Innovise ESM becomes Engage ESM in rebrand following continued growth and evolution of offerings

Innovise ESM, a leading independent Enterprise Service Management consultancy and technology company, announced today that it will be rebranding to Engage ESM, effective immediately.

The company was first established in 2001 and the rebranding reflects the continued evolution of the company and its vision for the future. With a reputation as a trusted technology partner in the Enterprise Service Management space, Engage ESM is taking this opportunity to better articulate its values and approach through a more meaningful company name and visual identity, including the launch of a new website.

“We’ve been planning the rebrand for some time and the new name, new look and feel, and new website will all work together to raise the profile of the business and better communicate our value proposition,” said Mat Middleton, CEO of Engage ESM. He continued, “I’m immensely proud to be building on past, continued successes and it’s by engaging closely with organisations, their people, processes and technology that we deliver the most valuable outcomes. Our ethos is all about exceptional customer & partner engagement and this is now reflected globally across our brand.”

As well as the new name, a new visual look and feel will better communicate the people centric approach of the firm. Alex Porter, Senior Marketing Manager, Engage ESM commented, “There has never been a more exciting time to be part of a company as innovative as Engage ESM. Our visual identity reflects our aspirations for the future of the brand. This is more than just a marketing exercise; there is a real buzz about the business right now and this is reflected by our continued success in the market place.”

The new brand announcement follows the opening of new offices in the US and Poland (amidst continued UK expansion), and an ambitious growth plan that has seen Engage ESM investing heavily in specialist staff, professional development and the creation of intellectual property based on partner technologies.

“Employee excellence is at the core of everything we do - it has to be. So we take investing in our people seriously, as evidenced by our recent re-certification for the Investors in People Gold standard. This has also been recognized by our recent elevation to Gold Services Partner for ServiceNow, one of only a few such companies recognized globally,” added Mat Middleton.
